

I Am

[Verse 1]

I walked the burning desert
Silence filling my lungs
The wind was carved in sorrow
The sun erased my face
Footprints fading behind me
A path of dust and bone
I felt the weight of lifetimes
Press heavy on my skin

[Verse 2]

Beyond the dying dunes
A figure formed from dusk
Not man, not woman, presence
Wrapped in forgotten light
Their eyes were ancient hollows
Cut open by their grief
Yet full of cosmic vision
A storm behind a calm
They offered me their water
Bright as a newborn star
And in that single gesture
The universe leaned close

[Pre Chorus]

I felt the veil break
I felt the earth breathe
A deeper truth awakening

[Verse 3]

I drank the sacred water
And warmth became a flame
A trembling in my spirit
A crack across the void
They held me as I faltered
As roots embrace the stone
And whispered through the darkness
The names of things unborn
The world began to open
Its boundaries undone
I drifted into dreaming
Where time dissolves to dust

[Pre Chorus]

I felt the veil break
I felt the earth breathe

A deeper truth awakening

[Chorus]

And I drank the cosmic water
Falling through the endless night
I became the breath of matter
I became the pulse of light

[Verse 4]

Stars were growing in the dark
Nebulae folding into shape
Planets rose and burned to ashes
Black holes whispered ancient names
Stellar winds embraced my spirit
Solar fire touched my skin
I dissolved in swirling atoms
Yet felt more whole than ever been

[Chorus]

And I drank the cosmic water
Falling through the endless night
I became the breath of matter
I became the pulse of light

[Verse 5]

I woke upon the sand
With twilight in my veins
The Guide had walked to nothing
No trace of dust or step
But in my chest a river
Still carried all their flame
A memory of the infinite
Alive within my bones
I stood beneath the heavens
And understood my task:
Not just to keep on living—
But to become Man at last

[Pre Chorus]

I felt the veil break
I felt the earth breathe
A deeper truth awakening

[Chorus]

And I drank the cosmic water
Falling through the endless night
I became the breath of matter
I became the pulse of light

[Outro]

I rise renewed

I rise unbound

I rise as Man

In harmony with stars

I rise renewed

I rise unbound

I rise as Man

In harmony with stars
