

The Ship

[Verse 1]

I sail these lines
once lost, once mine
through what I've learned and what I find I'm captain here
with compass torn I'm deckhand too
with sails to hoist

[Pre-Chorus]

In the sound
soft but strong
dark yet warm
I find my way

[Verse 2]

I ride the waves
unknown to me
they call me close
they ask to be I'm hiding now
a stowaway
I'm seeking me
as crew again

[Pre-Chorus]

In the sound
soft but strong
dark yet warm
I find my way

[Chorus]

On this boat
of sound I roam
life and death
both taste the same
Drink my rum
beside my stone
roll the dice
and cheat the game

[Verse 3]

I call out land
old or new
it matters not

it's coming through I'm pirate bold
who steals its gold I'm child of earth
who guards its lore

[Pre-Chorus]

In the sound
soft but strong
dark yet warm
I find my way

[Chorus]

On this boat
of sound I roam
life and death
both taste the same
Drink my rum
beside my stone
roll the dice
and cheat the game

[Verse 4]

The notes are notes
the scales are set
I rest a while to catch my breath
From here I rise
and sail again
a brand new course
already drawn

[Chorus]

On this boat
of sound I roam
life and death
both taste the same
Drink my rum
beside my stone
roll the dice
and cheat the game

[Outro]

Over the horizon,
orange and glorious
for my eyes.
The fantasy's over.
I'm screaming.

No, I'm not sure anymore
I can ride this animal life.
